

How many steps do you have to climb to get to the second floor?

What kind of jars were used for blood transfusions?

When you leave the surgical suite, there's a door to the right. What was it used for?

In the X-ray room, where would the patient sit?

Can you find the doctor's clothes? What do you think he wore them for?

In the women's ward, there is a large glass vial called the "Show Globe." Which colors mean healthy? What means sickness?

When this was a hospital, there was no air conditioning. How did they keep the patients cool? (or cooler)

In the private maternity room, there is a pair of shoes with a bar. Do you think babies liked wearing those shoes?

Why are there two sets of stairs coming up to the hospital?

In the waiting room, what kinds of animals can you find in the cabinet?

In the nurse's room, there is an old uniform. Do you think nurses like the clothes now better?

How does the exam room look the same as the one your doctor uses? How is it different?

Holmes Medical Museum Explorer's Guide

2017 © FamilyTravelsonaBudget.com